

Cookeville, TN, March 3, 2015– Triad Partners, LLC, a banking software development company, is pleased to announce the completion of newly branded software. Creation of the Oculus brand reflects a renewed focus on product development and provides a home for current and future Oculus software. The current suite of Oculus software includes BNControl, Oculus Lending and Oculus Online. The release date of Oculus Online has not yet been determined. For further information of software offered by Oculus, please view the website at www.oculus-software.com. Jonathan Loftis, Oculus' Chief Technology Officer stated:

“The Oculus brand allows us to build from the foundation set from BNControl, our flagship product, while creating an identity to incorporate our other product offerings. We believe the name conveys a message of strength, focus, and insight. We are excited about the future of BNControl as well as the other products under the Oculus umbrella.”

Oculus represents our mission - to provide your financial institution with a clearer perspective through innovative software and solid support. Oculus software allows you and your customer to focus in on what matters most. Whether you're using BNControl to gain better control of your bank or Oculus Lending to streamline your loan operations, we strive to provide a solution that's simple, clear, and effective.
